

Empowering Youth: Ecology + Leadership + Architecture International Conference March 31 - April 6 2009, Athens

ECOWEEK 2009 is about education and the transfer of ideas. Young people will envision and design the future. For the first time in Greece, young professionals and graduate students will work side by side known professionals from Greece and abroad, to learn the principles of ecological building and sustainable design.

Sponsorship opportunities available. Registration is open.
